

Greetings from the Northeast Asian History Foundation

Following the visit to the 'House of Sharing' in July, you may feel the urge to study more about Korean history and take a step outside as well. Perhaps Seoul may not sound tempting when you think of the busy streets of Myeong-dong or Gangnam.

As it turns out, there are many other hidden attractions in Seoul brimming with scenic views and historical stories. How about stepping out on a summer day to follow traces of Korean ancestors and foreigners that came to Seoul about a century earlier than you and savor the summer scenery along one of the four ancient fort walls of Seoul?
